

Jamira Jones

7-14-12

If I could sew I would sew a family blanket. So every one would remember the dead and received. My family is the best I would like to be the first young person in my family to build a family memory and that's not all there's much more I love to sew before my grandmother past she made me this pretty purse and I cherish it with all my heart and it's not easy to sew but if you keep trying you will get it. and many people don't think of things like this and if I don't get it it's ok I wish all kids good luck so thank you.

(TATWB) for a

Chance to win

