A message of Wisdom

To increase your knowledge...

"Lessons learned..." When THTWB was first conceived, a wise elderly man described THTWB's journey. This wise elderly man said to the two founders, "You two are destined for greatness. What you two should do is believe in the reason and the purpose. Put your faith in God and serve him." This elderly man was actually speaking about the butterfly and the cocoon. The Wisdom behind this man's statement was simple..." Learn how to survive on your own God given strength, when others see that you are committed, they will have no problem assisting you to the next level of success; but don't expect it to come easy."

The 9-11 message...

This message is for everyone who receives our e-news. Please take 1 minute of silence on September 11, 2011, to pray and give pause to the many Americans who lost their lives on this devastating day in New York, Washington, DC and in the fields of Pennsylvania. All of us who are part of THTWB, will join hands with our faith based partner "Out of Egypt and Saved by the Blood Ministries," at 9:11 a.m. for a silent prayer. Won't you join us?

THTWB Executive Director/CEO snapshot:

The following question has been posed to the Executive Director/CEO in regards to "training and advancement for 21st century success..."

"What suggestions can you make to individuals who are out of jobs due to layoffs, unemployment or lack of employment?" The Executive Director's/CEO's answer is:

"My response is delivered in three categories: 1) Get educated. Enroll in some form of confident building, mind, body and spirit enhancement along with a college course that deals with getting you back on your feet. 2) Apply for any unemployment assistance that is available within your region. Some form of monetary support until you get back in the saddle is better than nothing. 3) Stay spiritually faithful. Love your family, love your life and stay committed to God. You will get through it!"

Special message from the COO...

As the economy continues to suffer, and Washington is tied in gridlock, wealthy individuals need to step up to the base and support non-profit organizations such as THTWB and many others, who can provide job training, job development and family stability, as well as human and social services. Operationally, by donating money for these types of services, individuals can receive the training and services for free to low cost. This action enables donors to see where their money is spent (while receiving a write off for a worthy cause) and individual skill sets are increased, which can help to re-build and diversify our economy.
