A message of Wisdom

To increase your knowledge...

THTWB would like for you to focus on this message:

THTWB has operated efficiently without major contributions from resources that support organizations of this nature. Many of you or your loved ones have benefited from programs such as nutrition, social, behavioral or human services delivered from THTWB. THTWB continues to maintain that it has been established on Charity, Faith and Services. It would be greatly appreciated if you would join our foundation base and help us to continue to move forward. This can be done with your generous monetary support.

THTWB highlights...

The Executive Director of THTWB, has successfully attended several of the Cleveland Food bank workshops and grant sessions. This has been done to make sure that you continue to receive nutritional products and that THTWB remains compliant in the delivery of the food pantry program.

Spring into Wisdom

Thank you Mr. President...!

We can tip our hats to our United States President Mr. Barack Obama and our congress for achieving a feat that has been 100 years in the making...and that is the passing of Universal Healthcare! We all know that providing healthcare to individuals who can't afford it, have pre-existing illnesses or young people working who don't make enough money to afford paying for it, shouldn't have to be forced to make trips to an emergency room (since they don't have coverage) for illnesses. This landmark decision should provide all American citizens comfort in knowing that we are now all part of this global world and economy. Many thanks again to the representatives of Ohio for standing supportively strong for this landmark occasion. God bless you!

THTWB Executive Director's snapshot:

A question posed to the Executive Director was, "This year (2010) has begun with promises and one promise has been honored--which is the universal healthcare bill being voted into law. What other "promises" would you like to see happen?" Answer: "As an Executive Director, I would like to see The House That Wisdom Built (THTWB) become a player in the 'green jobs program.' This opportunity would provide THTWB with the chance to look

Special message from the CEO...

Our organization prides itself on proper data collection. Taking full responsibility in the collection of it is what keeps our programs and services active, functional and merited. With that being said, we ask that you continue to participate in any active survey or interview as a participant of our programs/services in order to keep our data collection current. It's only from your input that we can continue to move forward effectively and efficiently.

Thanking you in advance for your continued participation.
